

Dove Mission Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting Dove Missions' web site. We hope you find the information you require so that you can help support our many programs or join us on an Adventure in Service soon.

An individual's right to privacy is paramount to us. Therefore, Dove Missions provides the following statement regarding our practices for information gathering and dissemination for this web site:

What Information Do We Collect?

When visiting the our web site, you may provide us with two types of information: personal information you voluntarily choose to disclose that is collected on an individual basis, and Web site use information gathered on a collective basis as you and others browse our Web site.

Personal Information You Choose to Provide

Registration Information

You will provide us information about yourself, your firm or company, and your practices when you register to be a user of our services, register for certain services, or register for email newsletters and alerts.

Email Information

If you choose to correspond with us through email, we may retain the content of your email messages together with your email address and our responses. If you use our "Email this page" feature to send a copy of that page to someone else, your email address will appear as the sender of the email. Both your email address and the recipient's email address will not be used for any other purpose.

Protecting Your Credit Card:

Your financial information is protected at all points when applying for a service program or making a donation. These transactions employ Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) technology. SSL encrypts your private information and provides the highest security available to protect the transfer of your data from unauthorized parties.

Choices: Opt-out/Change/Modify

At the point where we request information about the visitor, Dove Missions offers the opportunity for users to opt-out of receiving communications from us. Users who wish to have their information removed from our database, and no longer receive future communications or services -- or users who wish to change or modify information previously provided -- may contact Dove Missions by any of the following means:
